vorth, five of whom are now living. In September, 1869, she was united in marriage to Aaron Witham. Eleven children were born to them, all of whom survive her with the exception of one son, who died in infancy. Mrs. Witham proved herself a mother in the truest sense of the word, for beside caring for her own large family she cared for more than 20 other children who needed a home and a mother's love and care. She was a home-maker and as long as she was able, never refused a call for help but was always ready to give or to do or to share what she had. She was a worthy member of Morrill Woman's Relief corps and had been a member and staunch supporter of the Methodist Episcopal church for over 30 years. She passed away in the triumphs of the faith after taking leave of her family and friends. "Her children shall rise up and call her blessed her husband also—and he praiseth her.
